

Epson Introduces Affordable Commercial Document Scanner for Busy Workstations

Epson DS-410 Brings Speed and Compatibility to Businesses of Every Size and Type

July 25, 2017

Epson America, Inc., a leading provider of digital imaging solutions, today introduced the Epson DS-410 document scanner, an affordable addition to its line-up of commercial document scanners. Complete with automatic document feeder (ADF) and duplex scanning, the DS-410 boasts speeds up to 26 ppm/52 ipm¹, and features a 50-page ADF with single-pass duplex scanning for effortless and versatile scanning. The scanner is equipped with ISIS® and TWAIN drivers for seamless integration with virtually any document management software, and comes with an industry-leading three-year limited warranty² including Advance Exchange with free Next-Business-Day replacement³ to minimize downtime.

“The DS-410 is ideal for business environments that require a fast and flexible document scanning solution, said Mark Pickard, senior product manager, Scanners, Epson America, Inc. “With the DS-410, we are providing paper intensive businesses with an affordable solution to save, store and protect critical and important documents.”

More about the Epson DS-410

The DS-410 offers a wide range of features that ensure productivity and reliability, including double-feed detection and paper protection technology to help prevent misfeeds, as well as a peak daily duty cycle of up to 3,000 sheets⁴. In addition, the scanner allows users to create searchable and editable PDFs with the included optical character recognition (OCR) software. It can also scan a variety of originals – from receipts, rigid ID cards, stacks of business cards to documents up to 11" x 17".

Epson's Document Capture helps to seamlessly and locally manage documents or scan directly to popular cloud services⁵ with one touch including Dropbox®, Evernote®, Google Drive™ and SharePoint®, while also featuring powerful capabilities such as image clean-up and color enhance/dropout.

Availability and Support

The Epson DS-410 (MSRP: $379 MSRP) document scanner will be available in August 2017 through select resellers and distributors nationwide. The scanners feature a three-year limited warranty with advance exchange service, including next business day replacement for users who call in by 3 p.m. EST.
