

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FileFacets Announces Distribution Agreement with NewWave Technologies

OTTAWA, ON – March 16, 2017 – Data analytics and content migration company FileFacets today announced that it has signed an authorized distribution agreement with NewWave Technologies, a leading distributor of document and data management solutions. Under the terms of the arrangement, NewWave will recruit partners to sell FileFacets content analytics and migration solutions to all industry segments.

Founded in 1992, NewWave supports its value added reseller channel with business process automation technologies that capture, store, manage and distribute business-critical information. NewWave's extensive portfolio of products, expertise in the market and deep commitment to their channel partners has been the foundation of their ongoing success.

“We are very excited to bring this new offering to our partners,” said Bill Cordell, President of NewWave. “The Filefacets solution not only streamlines our customers’ existing Enterprise Content Management data migration projects but also delivers new analytical content audit and migration tools to address large repositories of unstructured content.”

The FileFacets Partner Program gives NewWave vendors and channel partners the opportunity to offer the FileFacets content analytics and intelligent content migration platform as an complimentary solution to the data management and professional services they are providing to their clients today.

“With a presence in all 50 states, NewWave Technologies is a leader in providing the latest products and solutions to its value added reseller network,” said Chris Perram, Chief Executive Officer of FileFacets. “Partnering with FileFacets allows NewWave channel partners to complete data and migration implementation projects faster while delivering maximum value to their clients; saving time, increasing productivity and ultimately increasing their bottom line.”

FileFacets Analytics identifies and process Redundant, Obsolete, and Trivial data (ROT) and Personally Identifiable Information (PII), allowing businesses to find what they have, keep what they need, and protect sensitive data accordingly. FileFacets Migration automates the categorization of data, the attribution of file metadata, and the intelligent migration of unstructured content from multiple sources into Enterprise Content Management systems (ECMs).

To learn more about the FileFacets Partner Program, visit www.filefacets.com/partner-program.

About FileFacets

FileFacets makes it easy for businesses to locate, process and move content with sophisticated content analysis and intelligent content migration in a highly automated and scalable SaaS-based solution. Its all-in-one platform enables organizations to quickly identify Personally Identifiable Information (PII), remove Redundant, Obsolete and Trivial data (ROT) and move millions of disorganized files from multiple disparate locations into Enterprise Content Management (ECM) systems. For more information, visit www.filefacets.com.

About NewWave Technologies

NewWave Technologies Inc. is a leading distributor of document and data management technologies in North America. For over 25 years, NewWave, in partnership with our Vendors and 1,500 Channel Partners, deliver products and services to organizations that automate their business processes. Our core technology offerings scan, capture, manage and store, business-critical information. For more information, visit www.newwavetech.com

###

MEDIA CONTACT

Jennifer Nelson
Vice President, Sales & Marketing | FileFacets
Phone: 613-599-7433 x223
Email: Jennifer.Nelson@FileFacets.com