

Panini to Exhibit at Premier Latin American Financial Technology Conference

August 3, 2017 -- Panini, a global payments technology provider, will exhibit at the Felaban CL@B Annual Conference in Miami, Florida August 30-September 1, 2017 in booth #109. Panini will showcase its comprehensive portfolio of check truncation technologies including state-of-the-art scanners for branch image capture (BIC), and remote deposit capture (RDC).

Panini has been engaged in the Latin American financial services market for many years and has experienced growing success. The Panini Limitada location has allowed Panini to extend its reach and understanding of the Latin American market, and to better serve its customers throughout the continent.

"We are pleased to attend Cl@b, a strategic conference for the LATAM banking sector. During Cl@b we will offer a live demo of our latest solutions, show you what sets them apart in the payments landscape, and be on hand to answer your questions," says Paula Marques – Commercial Development, Panini Limitada.

At this event Panini will show its Vision X® range of check scanners, including the Vision neXt™. The Vision neXt is Panini's increasingly successful branch transformation capture platform, delivering robust quality and breakthrough innovations such as its integrated document auto-alignment system, and a 14-line ink jet printer for cut sheet receipts, rich check endorsement, and customer-facing cashier's check personalization. The Panini mI:Deal™ is the smart, practical, and secure solution for cost effective and reliable check capture at bank correspondents, capable of interfacing with new or legacy point of sale terminals used by such retailers all over Latin America, maximizing functionality and ROI. The mI:Deal may also be used in RDC, teller, and mobility applications thanks to its API-free, wired or wireless connectivity to a variety of hosts such as PCs, Macs, tablets, and smartphones.

CL@B 2017 will be held at The Intercontinental Miami from Wednesday, August 30 to Friday, September 1, 2017. Panini is booth #109.
